TIME CAPSULE EFFECT

We create special patinas and natural colors through a variety of studied organic compositions that are exclusive to RFC.

Our secret organic formulas are designed to react with the tannin acid that exists naturally within the timber allowing us to create a time capsule effect that speeds up the natural aging process.

This aesthetic is achieved as the wood structures organically react and change color within.

MEET THE FOUNDER & CREATIVE DIRECTOR

Owner and creator Robert J Henry began his journey into wood by restoring antique Victorian and Georgian pine floorboards for bespoke projects in London. Soon after, he began reclaiming beams from the historic cotton mills of Manchester, which proved to be as much about fascination as it was preservation.

From these small beginnings came an eco-epiphany and the idea of RFC took root. Collectively with his brother Thomas M Henry, RFC was founded in 2006 and a new curiosity emerged.

The natural progression from reclaimed timbers to tailor-made floorboards expanded the RFC brand to include both authentic reclaimed, replica reclaimed, and specialized new wood. An innovative range of surfaces incorporates both antique and contemporary design concepts blending rich history, new technology, and an unrestricted approach to creativity and craft.

A full-page background image of a misty forest. Tall, slender trees rise from a dense carpet of green ferns and undergrowth. The air is thick with mist, creating a soft, ethereal atmosphere. Sunlight filters through the canopy in some places, while other areas are in deep shadow.

As a long-standing symbol of craftsmanship and design, there is no greater statement floor than parquet. The most popular parquet patterns are herringbone, chevron and strip oak flooring are all laid in individual pieces which then have a border constructed around them using the same blocks or planks that are finished in the same color.

The inherent beauty of an aged piece of wood is central to this collection and indeed the heart of The Reclaimed Flooring Company. We see reclaimed materials as authentic and noble vessels that are based on the honesty of their origins.

WALL CLADDING
Statement Walls

Wall cladding creates an instant and unforgettable statement.

Available in a variety of tones and textures wall cladding is an easy and creative solution for any interior.

GRANDE RESTORATION
Traditional Surfaces

The most distinctive feature in this collection is the surface undulation typical of grand, ancient European floors. Drawing this beauty and tradition we have created the Grande Restoration collection to embody all the elements of a truly luxurious oak floor. Small board cracks, select knots and occasional soft band saw marks are subtle variations exhibited in this timeless collection.

TAILOR MADE
Contemporary

Our largest selection includes both contemporary and traditional spaces. This collection brings personalities and personalities between the character of the exterior and the interior surround it. The collection is created through organic composition and depth of feeling for commercial and residential use.
